FIRE AND DEATH ADDISTRATION IN PHILADELPHIA STANDS BY WOOD

Eight Bodies in the Ruins of One Building.

OVER 20 PERSONS INJURED
FACTORY EMPLOYEES FORCED TO LEAP FROM WINDOWS.

The Rosenblatt Leather Goods House
Burned With Several Other Buildings, Among Them One Presbyterian Church.

PHILADELPHIA, June 13.—Fire broke out this afternoon in the mill of H. M. Rosenblatt & Co., manufacturers of leather goods, Second and Oxford streets, and destroyed that plant and several adjoining properties, including the Third Reformed Presbyterian Church.

A number of employees in the Rosenblatt factory were forced to jump from the windows. Half a dozen girls were taken to a hospital seriously injured.

The police report that eight bodies are in the ruins of the Rosenblatt buildings. Over twenty persons are injured as a result of jumping from the windows and of falling walls.

The fire started in the celluloid department of the leather works. Within 10 minutes the building was ablaze. The fire escaped from inadequate means of exit for the employees working within.

There were 200 girls at work when the fire was discovered, and immediately a stampede was made for the first escape. Many were knocked down and trampled upon, and others, on reaching the first escape, despite the shouts of the people in the streets, plunged to the pavement. The girls remaining on the fire escape were carried in safety to the street by the firemen.

Eight girls are missing, and it is believed they were trampled on in the stampede and were unable to reach the fire escape.

The fire at 2:30 p. m., was reported under control.

President Serves Notice Upon the Leaders.

"PUT ON SCREWS," HE SAYS
ONLY STRAIGHT RECIPROCITY FOR CUBA IS ACCEPTABLE.

Best Sugar Senators Are Defiant and Bailey Advances New Arguments Against Democrats' Acting With Concessions Forces.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
WASHINGTON, June 13.—"Cuba must have straight reciprocity, with no concessions," Gen. Wood must be supported. The administration must be upheld. Put on the screws."

Five prominent Republican senators, the leaders of the administration faction in the Cuban reciprocity fight, have received substantially this message from President Roosevelt. The manner of transmission is immaterial. They got it.

The message was considered an ultimatum. It was talked over by the administration leaders and the work of putting on the screws was begun at once.

When the President arrived here from West Point last night, he drove to the White House in a great hurry. As soon as he arrived there he sent for Senators Roosevelt, Elihu Root and Speaker of the House, Charles D. Smith, and they were with him until after 11 o'clock. They went over the whole situation.

At first, when the President's message became public, the best sugar senators were somewhat despondent individually. It is hard to resist pressure from the White House when that pressure is scientifically applied, and there are experts with the "warrior" in Capitol Hill as well as in the Philippines.

Then there was a meeting of the best sugar men. Its outcome was that all signed an agreement to stand firm. They threw a band of fire in the face of the strenuous President and his aides. They put their deft in writing before his got beyond the personal instruction stage.

POSITIONS ARE OUTLINED.
The result is that the fight which has been seen-sawing since the Elkins luncheon, when 18 senators took their first decided stand, is now fully joined between the President on one side and the best sugar senators on the other.

The President will go into the battle full armed and determined to win. He has a main's fray before him, unless all signs fail.

After it became known that the President intended to stand by Wood and that he insisted on straight reciprocity, and that at one swoop knocked away all hope of rebate and other compromise, the best sugar men talked in this strain:

"We are all right if our fellows stand firm. It was a big 'if' and, in some cases, a rather hopeless one.

The administration men went around threatening, cajoling and promising. Then Senator Elkins leaped up. He called the best sugar men to a conference at his committee room. The conference lasted a long time. Before it was over the 18 senators present or represented had signed a document denying the President and the policy of the Republican party as represented by the administration.

BURROWS URGES FIRMNESS.
"The who dangles is a dastard; he who doubts is damned," quoted Senator Burrows before the doors were unlocked.

There were at the conference Burrows of Michigan, Stewart of Nevada, Mitchell of Oregon, Nelson and Chap of Minnesota, Elkins and Scott of West Virginia, Millard of Nebraska, Perkins and Bard of Illinois. There were represented by proxy Gamble and Kittredge of South Dakota, Jones of Nevada, W. W. Williams of Maryland, DeWitt of Nebraska and Simon of Oregon.

Senator Teller, who brought out the disastrous testimony from F. B. Thurber, eventually was able to pass a percentage reciprocity bill, but it would not be accepted by the House. There will be no legislation either for the Cuban planters or the Sugar trust at this session.

BAILEY'S NEW ARGUMENT.
Senator Bailey says that, in his judgment, the Democrats cannot support the reciprocity bill. It is in his opinion merely a protectionist measure and extends the protective tariff system of the United States to Cuba.

He is convinced that under the provisions of such a bill as is proposed the shipper of American goods to Cuba will have protection of 20 per cent in trade that no other country will possess.

This is a new argument and it is attracting general attention among the Democrats.

The Capitol is alive with speculation as to what course the President will take. He said to a friend the other day:

"Then this fight was on in the House and there were many misstatements of my attitude. I settled it all by a three line announcement, and I can do the same thing again."

The President certainly settled his position at that time, but the House passed a bill he did not want.

MESSAGE WOULD DO HARM.
A message to Congress would only make the resistance more determined. The best sugar men have burned about all their bridges, and a message would probably cause the torch to be applied to the last method of communication with the White House and the administration leaders. The leaders contend they are fighting for the preservation of the Republican doctrine of protection that they have never consented to the injury of an infant industry in this country for the benefit of an industry in a foreign country, and they refuse to consider themselves bolters.

The Thurbur testimony, showing the money from the Cuban treasury contributed to the Democrats, never came out. By President Havemeyer of the sugar trust, like the Sugar Trust with the policy of the government and the best sugar men say, they will not tolerate.

He approved of Wood's expenditure. This phase of the matter will be carefully examined.

The flat declaration of the President that the administration must stand by Wood added fuel to the fire. All the fight is as pretty as the most fastidious could wish.

Will Contest the Bond.
Counsel for Gottlieb Eyerman, surety for Charles Frazer on the $5000 bond on which he defaulted appeared in Judge Bond's court Friday and gave notice that he would contest the bond.

The contest was made by the bondsmen, who alleged the surety was a fraud.

WONDROUS TALE OF LITTLE OTTO BAREFEET AND THE GIANT BOODLE

HERE IS LITTLE OTTO BAREFEET

Photographed by the Post-Dispatch.

WHOSE BABY BOY IS THIS?

Name probably Otto Donnelly, Donnell or Doherty.

Says he has brothers Harry and Frank.

Residence probably somewhere on Broadway.

He is barefooted.

Age, 3 years.

Well developed rather short and fat.

Gray hair.

Hair, dark brown and straight.

Features regular.

Teeth, lower front teeth very irregular.

Dress, white waist and gray trousers.

A bright little boy is being held in the detention rooms at the Four Courts until his parents can be found. He was discovered wandering in the Terminal railroad yards at 9 o'clock Thursday night and brought to the Central station by a patrolman. He is a ready talker, but speaks so indistinctly that his identity cannot be ascertained. He says his name is Otto and that he lives on Broadway. This is the only clue to his identity that the police have learned.

The Wanderings and Adventures of a Three-Year-Old Boy Who Doesn't Know Where He Lives and Isn't Certain of His Own Name.

Now, dear little Otto, whilst we wait the Sandman's coming you shall hear the wondrous tale of Otto Barefoot, the lad your size who strayed from home to see the giant Boodle, and was lost.

Otto Barefoot, you must know, best be loved, was not of the new sort of boys, who fear not the bogie man, nor know that the world is full of fairies and giants and things.

So when he heard his mammy and his papa talk of the terrible Boodle, who was the very biggest man in all St. Louis, and had a great castle on Twelfth street, Otto Barefoot just made up his mind to go and see the giant Boodle.

Each night, dear Otto, whilst he nodded and nodded, even as you, he planned to see the giant and his castle the very next day. So upon yesterday, which was Thursday, Otto Barefoot slipped his papa's barlow knife in his pocket and ran away.

He walked and walked till his legs were ached.

Then he came to a shiny track which he saw was the very footprints of the giant Boodle and the track led through a dark canyon of houses straight to the land of giants. The place worked folks called the city hall.

But Otto Barefoot, the child, knew better. He saw the footprints of the giant every-where.

Great smoky dragons rushed by him. They carried two men in their mouths. The smoky dragons all minded two of the great white giants who stood beside the tracks waving long arms.

"Watch the semaphores," little Otto Barefoot heard a switchman say and then he saw the tracks waving long arms.

and he was not afraid, so he just went up them and asked for giant Boodle.

The giant Semaphores waited a moment and all at once when Otto Barefoot stood between two shining rails Semaphores clicked them together and Otto Barefoot had to jump lively to keep his feet from being cut smack off, whereupon he was afraid and ran away.

A smoky dragon rushed by carrying two men, and one waved his hands at Otto Barefoot, who followed the smoky dragon till he saw it slip into its den down by Cupples Station.

The name of the den is Bridge Tunnel, and Otto Barefoot was about to go into it when he happened to stray into a house and stood with a growl-up on some smooth boards that felt good to his tired feet.

Dear eyes, that was a giant trap door, and soon as ever Otto Barefoot got on it it just shot right up in the air. O, he was in a pretty fix now. He called up just like poor Sidhan when the Roc carried him off.

"He holed for his mammy—the dog stopped the all at once the giant trap door popped up in the air, and Otto Barefoot ran out in the street and smacked into the arm of a policeman, who carried him to the Four Courts and his wanderings were over.

Most wonderful of all, little Otto-eyes-when Otto Barefoot looked out the Four Courts window Friday morning, he saw Castle Boodle right across the street.

"Dear me," said Otto, "that's the City Hall." He walked and walked till his legs were ached.

Then he came to a shiny track which he saw was the very footprints of the giant Boodle and the track led through a dark canyon of houses straight to the land of giants. The place worked folks called the city hall.

But Otto Barefoot, the child, knew better. He saw the footprints of the giant every-where.

Great smoky dragons rushed by him. They carried two men in their mouths. The smoky dragons all minded two of the great white giants who stood beside the tracks waving long arms.

MERCURY FELL DOWNTOWN

SHORT RAIN CAUSED A DROP OF EIGHT DEGREES.

STORM WAS NOT GENERAL

Temperature at 7 O'Clock Today Was 82, Eight Degrees Hotter Than a Year Ago.

A ten-minute shower, which was a violent affair whilst it lasted, commenced in the downtown district at 12:35 o'clock, catching thousands of midday lunch-seekers unprotected on the sidewalks.

The temperature dropped almost a degree a minute while the rain was falling, and when the shower was over the mercury had fallen to 82, a drop of 8 degrees.

Two minutes later it had risen to 86 and was still on the ascent.

Dr. R. J. Hyatt, official custodian of hot air, cool breezes and thunder showers, sees possible relief for sweating St. Louis Sunday, if not tomorrow.

The doctor promises to let forth a few breezes from his Aeolian palace on the top of the Federal building, and these zephyrs, he figures, will smash one or two of his rain clouds.

After that it will be cooler.

Friday bids fair to rival Thursday as a dispenser of hot blasts. At 7 o'clock the temperature was 82, one degree hotter than at the same hour yesterday.

A year ago today at 7 o'clock the mercury was but 74 degrees removed from the zero mark.

Mr. Hyatt's "possible showers" for yesterday did not materialize. The local prophet is lenient to predictions of showers, for when the St. Louisian with a new panama carries his umbrella and the prospective drops do not fall, he can do no more than grumble, but when the seer tells not of showers and showers come, the man without protection is wont to borrow the doctor's raincoat.

The prophet's official forecast is: "Partly cloudy tonight and tomorrow, and with probable showers."

It is raining over the lake region, the Ohio valley and the Rocky Mountains.

TESTIMONY BEGUN IN BECKER CASE

Special Jury Was Selected
Friday Morning.

JUDGE NEVILLE IS PRESIDING
CHARGE IS ATTEMPT TO BRIBE JURY COMMISSIONER.

Case Is Being Tried by a Special Jury
—Judge Clark Was Disqualified on Grounds of Prejudice.

Twenty qualified talesmen were selected Friday morning in the Becker case from the venire of St. Louis. Eight were challenged for cause by the state. Three of the eight had read the papers, and had formed a prejudice. The defense was allowed four challenges, and the state the same number. The jury selected is as follows: William F. Assmann, tailor, 2637A Allen avenue. Louis V. Bauer, painter, 1819 Carr street. Louis E. Bayer, bookkeeper, 4555 Madison avenue. Frank F. Benish, foreman, 3220 California avenue. Louis C. Besson, bookkeeper H. L. Chase Bag Co., 1130A Aubert avenue. Chas. D. Biekle, tailor, 1301 S. Eighteenth street. Louis Cahn, bookkeeper, 439 Finney avenue. Robert C. Clark, clerk, 5067 Vernon avenue. Geo. A. Connor, printer, 3817 Delmar avenue. Henry A. Cornet, grocer, 1724 Carr street. F. D. De Donato, hair dresser, 5882 Julian avenue. Jacob Mosberger, lumberman, 4221 Pleasant street. When the jury was selected court adjourned until 2 o'clock, when the taking of testimony began.

JUDGE NEVILLE PRESIDES.
The trial of John H. Becker, a deputy city factory inspector, indicted on the charge of having attempted to bribe Jury Commissioner George P. Weinbrenner, was begun in the Court of Criminal Correction at 10:30 o'clock Friday morning.

Judge James T. Neville of Springfield, Mo., presided on the bench, Judge Willis H. Clark having been disqualified by reason of affidavits filed a week ago by the defense alleging that he was prejudiced and that the defense could not obtain a fair trial.

Becker was indicted by the February grand jury. It was charged that while the case of Charles Kraiz, charged with hoodluming, was pending before Judge Ryan's division of the Criminal Court Becker approached Jury Commissioner Weinbrenner and asked him to substitute a list of names to be furnished by Becker instead of the venire that was drawn by Weinbrenner from which the jury that was to try Kraiz was to be selected.

SAID TO HAVE OFFERED $1000.
It is alleged that Weinbrenner refused, and that Becker then offered the jury commissioner $1000 if he would make the substitution.

An investigation by Judge Ryan followed. Becker denied that he had ever broached the subject to Mr. Weinbrenner. The grand jury took up the case and Becker was indicted, under a felony charge.

A motion was filed by Becker's attorney arguing that the charge be reduced from felony to a misdemeanor. Judge Douglas sustained this motion and the case was certified to the Court of Criminal Correction.

Harry A. Clover, the regular prosecuting attorney of the Court of Criminal Correction, represented the state. Circuit Attorney Folk proffered assistance in the prosecution of the case, but the offer was declined.

John A. Gernez, Thomas J. Rowe and Simon A. Bass appeared as counsel for the defense. The case is being tried by a special jury.

Killed in Philippine War.

J. N. at Quincy, Ill.
The cause of our friend J. N. the only philosopher, is moving on and on. He feels now his triumph over opposition and wishes the press of the nation to allow him to be vindicated wherever he may address an audience. He will lift the veil at the Soldiers Home at Quincy, Ill., in a few days. A lone soldier, however, may address him. He wishes to vindicate his cause of truth, which is his ideal. He wants no personal mention wherever he may speak, but wishes only to be known by the initials "J. N." He has sacrificed his full name for over 20 years.

MONT PEELE NINE IN A BIG Eruption

AND THE MARTINIQUE GOT THE WORST OF IT.

THE "GUILTY" GUY ESCAPED

There Was a Fierce Fight Over a Division of the Umpire When Three Men Were on Bases.

Eight members of the Mont Pelee baseball team were defendants in the Dayton street police court, and were dismissed because the testimony showed that only the ninth and missing member, whose name the others professed not to know, had been guilty of creating a disturbance. The Mont Pelees commenced a game with the Martiniques Thursday afternoon on the vacant lot on Lambdin and St. Louis avenues.

For four innings all proceeded smoothly. Then the Mont Pelees protested against a decision which put their third man out, when three men were on bases. The sudden eruption of the Pelees was resented by the Martiniques, who took up arms in the shape of base bats. Only one bat was secured by the Pelees, and this was wielded so well by the unknown member of the team that the Martiniques were overwhelmed and driven from the field.

In the general confusion the man with the bat struck a member of his own team, William Simon, who received a scalp wound which the city dispensary physicians later sewed up. When Sergeant Nolte and Policeman Wright arrived, the Martiniques had fled. "We don't know of any one who did this," said Simon testily. "He wore a red suit, and he didn't look like he was a Pelee because he had a uniform. He handled me a hot woolly. Your Honor, but he never aimed to do it."

The evidence also showed that Simon and the other seven defendants, who were Louis Brookings, Joseph Rickals, James Fitzgerald, Richard Anderson, Edward Butters, Michael Kelly and Pat McGrath.

RAZOR AND NOZZLE FIGHT

Landlord's Efforts to Raise His Boarder's Rent Wound Up in a Battle Royal and Police Court.

In assessing a $10 fine against Reuben Donegan of 1411 Washington avenue Friday morning, Judge Siders in the city Hall police court took occasion to rebuke the defendant for attempting to influence a boarder to pay an increased price for a room by bringing the aforesaid boarder's head in sudden and violent contact with the brass nozzle of a hose. Hunter Mattingly that the evidence showed was Donegan's point of attack. The evidence also showed that Donegan's head, which is bereft of hair, was also injured by Mattingly with a razor. But as the hose-nozzle assault precipitated the razor swinging stunt, the court discharged Mattingly.

JUDGE SUTTON TO CRY SALE

Former Magistrate Will Conduct Auction of Lots in Compton Heights Saturday.

JUDGE H. L. SUTTON.
Who will cry the Compton Heights auction sale Saturday.

Judge H. L. Sutton, who will cry the Compton Heights auction sale Saturday, is the oldest auctioneer in St. Louis. He is a St. Louis product. Born in this county, he went west with the Rev. Father de Smet, where he remained until 1857, when he returned to St. Louis County. He is a courtier, having served in that capacity two years. He was admitted to the bar in 1861 and he practiced law for some time, but later took up the auction business in 1881 with Judge P. S. Lanham. After the latter's death Judge Sutton continued the business alone. He is popular with the real estate fraternity, to which department of business he now confines himself almost exclusively.

NEGRO STUDENTS PROTESTED

Objected to the Removal of Prof. Clarke from Presidency of Lincoln Institute.

SPECIAL TO THE DISPATCH.
JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., June 13.—The board of regents of Lincoln Institute, the state normal school here for negroes, met last night and elected the faculty for the ensuing year as follows: B. F. Allen, Tuscegee, Ala., president; J. F. Garnett, vice president and professor of languages; Anna H. Jones, professor of English; J. S. Moten, professor of mathematics; G. S. Murray, professor of science; J. W. Hord, professor of agriculture; Carrie M. Carney, instructor in music; A. L. Reynolds, assistant in mathematics; J. H. Bredegar, superintendent of industrial department; Mary E. Grimsshaw, superintendent of domestic department. Mrs. Anthony, matron of girls' department. Not re-elected Prof. E. C. Clark, president. When the board announced that it had elected the new faculty, the students, 200 in number, and friends of Clark held an indignation meeting and opposed his removal.

A committee was appointed to confer with the board and urge the reappointment of Prof. Clark. The board positively refused, and the committee appealed to Gov. Dockery with the same result. The removal of Prof. Clark was a great surprise, as it was generally supposed that his administration was satisfactory. There is no objection to the institution several years, but as a rule, Clark has been here only five months, the students of the school objected to his removal at this time.

The members of the board say they removed Clark from the presidency because in his report filed with them he asked that he be allowed to nominate the entire faculty and also that negroes replace all the white men in all departments of the institution. The board has for several years employed white men as superintendents of the industrial departments and as janitors and Clarke's recommendations were regarded by the board as an attempt to displace all the white men. Prof. Clarke says all he wanted was that competent negroes be placed at the head of the industrial departments. The board will not reconsider its action and Prof. Clarke will return to his home in Ohio soon.

FARMING IN INDIAN TERRITORY.
Census Bureau Report Shows Prosperity by Statistics.
WASHINGTON, June 12.—The census bureau has issued a report on the agriculture of Indian Territory, showing that the 45,505 farms enumerated there June 1, 1900, were valued at $46,883,440. Of this amount, 16 per cent represents the value of buildings and 84 per cent the value of land and improvements other than buildings. The value of farm implements and machinery was $2,339,480 and live stock $41,875,085.
The total value of farm property was $20,481,435. The total value of animal products in 1899 was $27,672,002, of which 29 per cent was in animal products and the rest in crops, including forest products cut or produced on farms. The gross farm income in 1899 was $23,237,992, and the gross income on investment 25 per cent.

COMPROMISE IN WIGGINS FERRY
Terminal Association to Get the Property.
A VICTORY FOR ROCK ISLAND
LITIGATION OVER THE STOCK, IT IS SAID, WILL BE DROPPED.
Present Plan Is to Turn Over the Shares Held by the R. I. and the Terminal So as to Give the Former an Equal Ninth.
By a compromise reached in New York the Wiggins Ferry property is expected to pass into the hands of the St. Louis Terminal Railroad Association, of which the Rock Island railroad will become a member on an equal footing with the eight railroads which now control the eastern gateway to St. Louis.
A meeting of the Terminal Association directors will be held next week or early in the week following, in which the terms of the proposed agreement will be thoroughly canvassed.
When the railroad companies have effected a compromise it is expected that the Mercantile and Mississippi Valley trust companies, which were the principal figures in the early litigation over the Wiggins stock, will cease to figure prominently in the case, and that the negotiations involving the sale of stock will be dismissed by consent of all parties.
M. A. Low, general counsel of the Rock Island west of the Mississippi, says that the final terms of the compromise have not been settled, but that the negotiations are likely to result in the transfer of the Wiggins stock to the Terminal and the acquisition by the Rock Island of an interest in the Terminal association.
As a member of the Terminal, the Rock Island will use the tracks of the Terminal company, and will not be restricted to the limited facilities which were secured by its purchase of the Colorado line.
The compromise will be brought about, according to plans, by the depositing of the Wiggins stock held by the Rock Island and the Terminal, and by the readjustment of Terminal interests so as to give the Rock Island an equal ninth.

WALLER BOASTS SAMAR WORK
Major Tells of "Kill and Burn" Campaign.
BELIEVES IT WAS JUSTIFIED
"WE MADE IT A HOWLING WILDERNESS FOR THEM."
"That's What They Tried to Make It for Us" and "Hell Is a Winter Resort Compared to Samar," He Says.
SAN FRANCISCO, June 12.—Maj. L. W. T. Waller, United States Marine Corps, by far the most interesting personage to reach here on the transport Warren, which brought the battle-scarred remnant of the fighting Ninth Infantry into port last night, expressed emphatic views of the war in the Philippines.
"You can't stop the revolution in the Philippines unless you take the severest measures," said Maj. Waller. "You would hate to see your wounded and dead mutilated. I cannot describe the fearful condition in which we found some of the bodies of men. Our command who were murdered by insurgents."
"I received both verbal and written orders from Gen. to Jacob Smith to kill all insurgents who were caught armed or who refused to surrender. It was the only thing that could be done, and I never questioned Gen. Smith's orders with one exception. This exception I reserve to the fact that a fair estimate of the number of natives killed by the men of my command would be 400 to 500. These were all killed in battle with the exception of 11 carriers, insurgents at heart, who were tried by court-martial and shot. There was only one woman shot and she was only slightly wounded. The rest were all men. I have breastworks of a fort my men were storming."
"I have fought with every country in the world except Australia," said Maj. Waller, "but Samar—well, hell is a winter resort compared to Samar."
The major spoke huskily through a deep cloud of cigar smoke that he had made at the transport.
"I left Samar a howling wilderness. They tried to make it that for us, but we made it a howling wilderness for them."
"Want any more of it?" he was asked.
"No, I'm getting to be an old man now. I'm in my fifties. Besides, they've surrendered, and it's all over."
"It's always all over when they surrender in the Philippines."
"Have you anything to say, major, regarding your court-martial on the charge of executing Samar natives without trial? Or was that the charge?"
"The charge against me," he said, "was that I was a plain word—murderer. And as for having anything to say about the court-martial, of course I have. I objected to being court-martialed; it wasn't done at my pleasure; I was not consulted in the matter. I know who caused that court-martial; I know who brought it forward; I know who was at the back of it all, and Washington knows as much."
HALE ON THE PACIFIC CABLE.
Massachusetts Senator Thinks Government Will Never Build It.
Special to the Post-Dispatch.
WASHINGTON, June 12.—Senator Hale, chairman of the committee on naval affairs, says the defeat of the Corlis Pacific Cable bill will mean that the government will never build a Pacific cable.
Senator Hale says that the guarantee of the cable service and reasonable rates, if also assured, the government has an opportunity of acquiring the cable by purchase at an appraised valuation and makes possible the absolute control of the cable whenever it is found necessary through an emergency.

FRIDAY, THE 13TH, HIS SUICIDE DAY
HENRY SCHULTZ TOOK A FATAL DOSE OF STRYCHNINE.
WAS SICK AND DESPONDENT
Wife Found His Lifeless Body on the Cellar Floor, Where He Had Taken the Poison.
Despondent because of ill health, Henry Schultz decided on the doubly ill-omened day of Friday, the 13th day of the month, to find relief from his woes.
In the cellar of his home at 1217 Armstrong avenue he went some time during Thursday night and swallowed strychnine, from which he died Friday morning.
Schultz until a week ago was employed as a bookkeeper at the A. H. Lewis Medicine Co., at 406 North Third street. For a year or more his health had been failing and a week ago he resigned his position. Since then he had not attempted to procure employment and he was gloomy and morose. Thursday night he complained of feeling worse than usual, and at 10 o'clock he told his wife that he would occupy a separate room. By his side she found a small bottle marked strychnine.
Dr. Schuchat of 2200 Chouteau avenue was called. He said that Schultz had been dead for several hours.

RESCUED FROM DRINK
Popular Society Girl Saves Her Brother From a Drunkard's Grave.
There is a safe and easy way of curing the drink habit. A small little remedy has been used by thousands of women who have secretly cured their husbands of this blighting habit. By putting this odorless and tasteless remedy in the coffee or tea of the unfortunate, all desire for drink is destroyed. Miss Isabelle Turner, one of the best-known and most popular society women in Philadelphia, cured her brother of the drink habit after all other methods had failed.
She says: "I was ever fond of the unfortunate, daughter or wife who is cursed with drink. In the family circle much of this marvelous remedy."

MRS. TAYLOR GOT HER HAMMER OUT
IT WAS ONLY WHEN MISS WARNER PLAYED THE PIANO.
COMEDY IN A FLAT HOUSE
Neighbors Disagree and Air Their Troubles in Police Court—Both Women Refused Court's Request to Move.
Mrs. Loretta J. Warner, a kindergarten teacher, testified in the Dayton street police court Friday morning that Mrs. William Taylor, who lives on the floor above her in a Clifton Heights flat, had turned off the water supply of the lower floor in order to punish her for playing the piano. Mrs. Taylor explained the noise which had interrupted the piano practice by saying that she had been cleaning house for four "House cleaning for four weeks," exclaimed Judge Welles.
"Yes, sir," said Mrs. Taylor, "and I have to tack my carpets at odd minutes, when I get a chance. When the piano is going downstairs I can't do anything else, so I just put a few more tacks in the corners."
Mrs. Taylor took the ground that no one had seen her turn off the water in the basement, and that the charge against her had therefore not been proved.
"I will dismiss this case on condition that one of you move," said the court.
"I won't move," said Mrs. Taylor. "I won't be run out of the house."
"I won't move," said Mrs. Warner. "This trouble wasn't my fault."
"Very well, then," said the judge. "I'll dismiss it anyway, and don't bring your troubles here in the future."

COMPTON HEIGHTS COST $1,700,000 TO IDEAL FOR HOMES DUPLICATE THE WATER

Opinions of Leading Real Estate Men to That Effect. For This Sum City Could Maintain Filter Plant.

ONE OF ST. LOUIS' SHOW PLACES B. P. I. NOT READY TO SPEND IT ONLY APPARENT HOPE IS IN THE RIVER FALLING.

SITUATED IN ONE OF ST. LOUIS' PRETTIEST SECTIONS. Problem Which Now Confronts St. Louisans Is How They Can Get Clean After Taking a Bath.

Saturday's Public Sale Promises to Mark an Epoch in the Development of That Section of the City.

The auction sale of lots in Compton Heights to be conducted by the Mercantile Trust company next Saturday is looked forward to with great interest by the real estate men of the city. The property is all high class and above the standard of properties usually disposed of at auction. It lies in one of the prettiest and most desirable sections of the city, where the landscape gardener's talents have been employed to good advantage.

Compton Heights has an established reputation. The property that is to be sold is free from railroad tracks, and presents advantages for speculation not always afforded in other property. The winding boulevards and odd sized lots add greatly to the beauty of the place and the Compton Heights water tower is a striking feature of the pleasing surroundings.

What the real estate men of the city think of the property is shown in the opinion of Compton Heights' worth, from an investment standpoint.

Malcomb Macbeth said: I expect the demand for local real estate investments to be exemplified at the Compton Heights auction Saturday afternoon by a clean sweep of all the property offered. Compton Heights is beautifully located and has a good future and I believe those who buy there will not regret it.

Adam Bockel: The Compton Heights auction to be held tomorrow afternoon will be a grand success.

Moses Greenwood: I think there is no property south of Mill Creek valley that can compare with Compton Heights with respect to the improvements which have been made with a view of securing perfect park effects. It has natural topographical advantages. It has an elevation of from 120 to 150 feet above the river level, which makes a manifest difference in the temperature. It adjoins Reservoir Park and looks down on Shaw's Garden, making the surroundings all an unequalled success, and that those who buy will get bargains, as I understand it, the Compton Heights a clean sweep of the property, letting it go at whatever it may bring.

Edward Wynne, director of the St. Louis Real Estate Exchange, have always admitted Compton Heights which he held out in a thorough, competent manner with building restrictions dictated by the city and due regard for the future of the property. I think the sale should prove successful.

Harry L. Haydel: Compton Heights is not only the prettiest subdivision on the South End, but the handsomest to be found anywhere in the city. The winding drives of spacious width, its lawns, trees and shrubbery and the many costly homes which embellish it. The auction sale has been so well advertised and the beauties of the place are so well known that it is bound to be a success.

Chas. F. Vogel: The auction sale of Compton Heights lots to be held under the hammer tomorrow afternoon by the Mercantile Trust Co. deserves to be a success. In the place, it is the finest subdivision in the city—high, pure air, good drainage and fine shade trees, beautiful lawns and homes, and I understand they are going to sell without reserve. It will be an opportunity to buy property at a reasonable figure. In the second place, the property has been well advertised, and, living in the heights, I have been called upon for information by many inquirers for property.

Thos. F. Farrelly: Compton Heights is very finely situated and is high and healthy, and owing to this there will be no damp cellars. The foundations are a best.

Robert M. Noonan said: I consider the property to be sold at the Compton Heights auction next Saturday among the choicest ever offered to the public in the city. I think every buyer will secure a bargain. I am thinking seriously of buying a lot myself, as a speculation.

Frank Gerhardt said: Compton Heights is beautiful property. Considering the general property and the fact that some of the lots have been turned in stock speculation during the last year, the lots to be presented Saturday ought to sell to a class of people who will improve with handsome homes.

Henry Hemenz, Jr.: I regard Compton Heights as one of the most beautiful residence tracts in the United States. The lots presented next Saturday ought to sell readily.

John E. Love: I don't know what to say about the Compton Heights auction scheduled for next Saturday. I don't want any of the lots, and I don't think that I have any clients who want any of them.

J. L. Watson, of the real estate department of the Commonwealth Trust Co.: Disposing of high-class property like Compton Heights through the medium of auction sales is as yet an experiment in St. Louis. For that reason I should not like to make any prophecies as to the outcome of Saturday's sale. Compton Heights is, however, beautiful property, and ought to sell.

Charles C. Nichols of the Nichols-Ritter Realty and Finance Co.: I hope the auction sale to be conducted by the Mercantile Trust Co. Saturday will be successful.

D. F. Kaimie: I know why it shouldn't sell. It is one of the most beautiful home locations in the city.

Gus Nieman, secretary of the Title Guaranty Co.: Compton Heights is one of the show places of the city. It is to that section of the city where the most beautiful and Windermere places are to the West side. It has a bright outlook, and I believe Saturday's auction will be an opportunity for an advantageous purchase.

W. A. Girardin, president of the Real Estate Exchange: The auction, if bona fide, and I don't doubt but what it is, ought to result in the sale of all the lots in Compton Heights. Compton Heights is the beauty spot in St. Louis, and it is to be sold in a place where the few of our foreign visitors could see it. They would certainly have better luck in St. Louis' magnificence. The auction should show that St. Louis real estate is a sound and profitable investment.

Thos. Barnett, of the well-known firm of Barnett, Haynes & Barnett, said: "In my estimation Compton Heights is one of the most beautiful residence locations in the city. The high altitude of the ground will enable prospective buyers to get the full benefit of the eastern and southern breezes which are so essential to comfort during the summer months. The locality is all-around with magnificent beautiful specimens of residence architecture which materially enhance the value of the surrounding property. Its street car facilities also render it attractive. I think the sale will be a great opportunity for home seekers."

Frank O. Fischer, head of the financial and sales department of the P. V. Y. Co.: "Compton Heights is one of the most beautiful residence subdivisions in St. Louis. The sale Saturday should be a success."

CHICAGO, June 12.—The St. Thomas Lipton cup has arrived in Chicago and been turned over by the customs to the officers of the Columbia Yacht club. The trophy, which is to remain in possession of the club for contests on June 14 and 15, is a beautiful specimen of silver and is valued at $750.

SEXUAL WEAKNESS.

Men, many of you are now reaping the result of your former folly. Your manhood is failing and will soon be lost unless you do something for yourself. There is no time to lose. Lost manhood, like all diseases, is never on the standstill. With it you can make no compromise. Either you must master it or it will master you and fill your whole future with misery and indescribable woe. I have treated so many cases of this kind that I am as familiar with them as you are with the very daylight. Once cured by me you will never be bothered again with weak organs, nervousness, failing memory, loss of ambition or similar symptoms which rob you of your manhood and absolutely unfit you for study, business, pleasure or marriage. My treatment for weak men will correct all these evils and restore you to what nature intended—a hale, healthy, happy man, with physical and mental powers complete.

I also cure to stay cured VARICOCELE, STRICTURE, CONTAGIOUS BLOOD POISON, NERVOUS DEBILITY and all associated diseases and weaknesses of men. To these maladies alone I have earnestly devoted 25 of the best years of my life. Physicians having stubborn cases to treat are cordially invited to consult me. I charge nothing for private counsel, and give to a patient a legal contract in writing, backed by abundant capital, to hold my promise. Is it not worth your while to investigate a cure that has made life anew to multitudes of men? If you cannot call at my office write me your symptoms fully. My home treatment by correspondence is always successful. Address all communications to W. A. COOK, M.D., MED. CAL CO., ST. LOUIS, MO.

HIS OWN INVENTION COST HIM HIS LIFE

HERMANN MORITZ SKILLED BY AERIAL TOBOGGAN SLIDE

WAS GIVING IT FINAL TEST

He Had Worked on It Twenty-Five Years and Had Spent Savings to Perfect It.

NEW YORK, June 12.—Hermann O. Moritz, a Brooklyn inventor, 62 years of age, was killed at Coney Island by a device on the invention of which he had spent more than a quarter of a century and all of his savings.

Moritz's invention was an aerial toboggan slide. Permission had just been granted to operate it, all the laws of the department being complied with. The first car was empty and went without any trouble. Other cars with persons in them were sent over. The device seemed to be working to perfection, and as the various cars, one after another, went down the steep slide and came up with a round turn, Moritz stood and looked on, his face beaming with pleasure.

He fairly shouted for joy. The dream of the last 25 years of his life was realized, and his face beamed with delight as he and his friends alighted from the cars and pronounced the construction a success and as certain to make him a fortune.

Inspector Rittenhouse and Charles Otis, a friend of the inventor, rode in the last car to be tested. Moritz stood at the foot of the incline. The car had nearly reached the top, a distance of about 70 feet. There was a cracking sound, a shout and Rittenhouse and Otis shot backward. Their car had failed to hold the steel dog until the top of the incline had been reached. It came down with a round turn, Moritz stood for the place where Moritz was standing. The car was almost upon him when he turned to get out of the way. It was too late.

The heavy vehicle struck him in the back, knocking him through a wire netting and out into the Bowers walk. He died two hours later. Rittenhouse and Otis were thrown from their seats, but were uninjured.

MONTANA INVENTOR MAKES AN AIRSHIP

PRaise FOR BOTH BRITON AND BOER

FRIENDS EXPECT HIM TO TAKE SANTOS' LAURELS.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
BUTTE, Mont., June 12.—Santos-Dumont and all other with aerial aspirations and experiments had better look to their laurels, for there is a man down in Carbon County who threatens to make them all look up and, judging from present promises, is destined to be in the lead among the highfliers of the upper air.

"C. Benbow's flying machine has passed the experimental stage," Red Lodge men this morning. "Not only has he returned from Washington with the endorsement of authorities in the East, but has succeeded in organizing a stock company with capital enough to bring his invention before the public."

"Mr. Benbow's company, which has just been incorporated at the American Aerial Navigation Co., and has a capital stock of $30,000. The incorporators are all local men, the president being former County Commissioner Lavelle of Red Lodge, a. Simonson of Arden, the president and George Peterson of Red Lodge secretary."

"Benbow, Lavelle and Simonson have gone to New York, where they will build a machine which will cost $30,000."

"Some months ago Mr. Benbow went to Washington to make his filing in the patent office, and while there he received the compliments of Munn & Co., the publishers of the Scientific American, and of the editor in charge of the Smithsonian Institution."

"Benbow was a rancher before he became an inventor, and when he first started this machine of his on the people of Carbon County he was considered a crank, but the people down there have discontinued to accuse him of carrying wheels in his head."

"His aeroplane, or whatever he is disposed to call it, will be propelled by a gasoline motor of about five-horse power. It has a number of canvas wings which open and shut at the will of the operator, who has a small lever near his seat."

"Two large rubber bags carry the gas. One of these, however, is used only in emergency cases and the other one has sufficient buoyancy to carry the weight of the machine."

"There does not seem to be much probability of Mr. Benbow's returning to ranch life again, as he has already been offered enough for his invention to enable him to shake his fist at the alps and arrows of outrageous fortune and bronco busting."

CITY NEWS.

This is Bargain Day, so called, in St. Louis and in the United States, the day on which the very smart ones trot out their weekly star exhibitions of bargains, their dead ones that lie embalmed the other days in the week under the counter! dirty, dead, besmirched and bedraggled, and make them do sentry duty on tables throughout their stores! They never sell them, just hold on to them as dummies. How could they sell them when such a store as THE CRAWFORD one can give you nice, clean, fresh, new goods for much lower prices? Echo answers, How?

PHYSICIAN AND NURSE WED

Dr. R. B. Scott and His Bride Became Acquainted While Fighting Smallpox in the Tri-Cities.

Dr. R. B. Scott of Venice, Ill., and his bride, who, as Miss Emma Larson, aided him in battling smallpox at the Tri-Cities quarantine last winter, are on their honeymoon on the steamer Dubuque, and will visit St. Paul, Minn., before returning to their home.

Last winter, when Dr. Scott was appointed to take charge of the quarantine hospital established by Venice, Madison and Granite City, he asked Dr. G. A. Jordan, chief dispensary physician of St. Louis, to send him a trained nurse. Miss Larson was sent.

After the epidemic subsided on the East Side, Dr. Scott made frequent visits to Miss Larson at her home in St. Louis. That the interest which the physician and the nurse took in each other was more than a professional one was not suspected by Miss Larson's family until the day of their marriage at St. Charles, Wednesday morning, was received.

D. O. TRACY FOR POLICE JUDGE

He Will Probably Succeed Adolph Wislizenus, and W. J. Flynn Will Succeed Him.

Daniel O'Connell Tracy, who Thursday resigned the position of coal oil inspector, will probably be nominated by Mayor Wells to succeed Adolph Wislizenus as justice of the Dayton Street Police Court.

William J. Flynn, heretofore deputy coal oil inspector, was appointed by Gov. Dockery to succeed Mr. Tracy.

Mr. Flynn was appointed to the coal oil inspectorship a year ago, having strong recommendations from leading business and professional men. He has been anxious for several months past to return to the legal profession, and his friends have, for this reason, urged his appointment to the vacancy in the police court.

Mr. Flynn was an applicant for the coal oil inspectorship, and was appointed deputy inspector by Mr. Tracy. He is a member of the state and city Democratic committees, and is chairman of the house committee of the Jefferson Club.

BRIDE WORE BORROWED HOSE

Same in Which Miss Wilkins, Novelist, Was Married, Friend Lending Them for Good Luck.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
RANDOLPH, Mass., June 13.—To Mrs. Clarence H. Deane, who was Miss Nettie W. French until her marriage last night, belongs the distinction of having stepped into, not the shoe, but the hose of Mrs. Charles Freeman, who is still called Mary E. Wilkins in her old home.

The bride was married in the same silk stockings that Miss Wilkins wore at her recent marriage to Charles Freeman. Some years ago Miss Abby Turner gave a pair of blue silk stockings to Miss Mary E. Wilkins with the understanding that she should be married in them. But as Miss Wilkins remained unmarried, she asked her friend, Miss Wilkins, to wear the stockings when she became a bride. Then she expressed a desire that Miss French should wear them, as it is said to be lucky to wear something borrowed and something blue.
